African Ministerial Conference on the Environment

African Ministerial Conference on the Environment
Seventh special session and first meeting of the Africa Environment
Partnership Platform
Nairobi, 17 – 21 September 2018

Information note on the seventh special session of the African Ministerial Conference on the Environment and the first meeting of the Africa Environment Partnership Platform

Introduction

The African Ministerial Conference on the Environment (AMCEN) meetings provides guidance with respect to key regional policies and initiatives related to the environment. Pursuant to this, the seventh special session of AMCEN will be held at the headquarters of the United Nations Environment Programme in Gigiri, Nairobi, Kenya from 17 to 21 September 2018. It will consist of a meeting of the expert group to be held from 17 to 18 September 2018, a ministerial segment to be held on 19 September 2018.

The special session is jointly organized with the NEPAD Agency and will be held back to back with the first meeting of the Africa Environment Partnership Platform which will take place on 20 and 21 September 2018 at the same venue. The aim of the Africa Environment Partnership Platform is to promote sustainable environmental management in Africa through enhanced partnership, coordination and harmonization of activities.

The AMCEN special session will consider key issues to be discussed at the fourth United Nations Environment Assembly (UNEA-4) and Africa's common approach for engagement in the Assembly, scheduled to take place from 11-15 March 2019. The theme of UNEA-4 is "Innovative solutions for environmental challenges and sustainable consumption and production". The theme Innovative solutions, covering policies, financing, technologies, partnerships and multi-stakeholder processes – are key both to solving many environmental challenges, as well as to accelerating sustainable development more generally. The special session will therefore focus on how environmental challenges can be addressed through innovative solutions and interventions and by promoting sustainable consumption and production. The session will therefore be held under the overall theme of "Turning Environmental Policies into Action through Innovative Solutions".

The special session will provide an opportunity for the region to prepare for the 14th Conference of the Parties to the United Nations Convention on Biological Diversity (CBD-COP14) scheduled for 17 to 29 November in Sharm el Sheikh, Egypt. The conference of the parties will address a wide range of agenda items, including review of progress in the implementation of the Convention and the Strategic Plan for Biodiversity 2011-2020. Egypt is also planning to organize a high-level event (African Biodiversity Summit) back to back with COP14 as endorsed by AMCEN at its 16th Regular Session. The regional groups, including Africa, are expected to report to the Conference of the Parties on the results of regional preparatory meetings held prior to the fourteenth meeting of the Conference of the Parties. The special session will help the region to agree on how to engage and speak with a common voice at the Conference of the Parties.

The seventh special session of AMCEN will also focus on the 24th Conference of the Parties to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC-COP24) to be held in Katowice, Poland later in the year. 2018 will be an important year for international climate diplomacy as nations move forward to implement the Paris Climate Change Agreement – indeed 2018 is when governments are expected to reach some key milestones. These range from finalizing the guidelines for fully operationalizing the agreement, to taking stock of how countries are doing collectively in terms of being on track to realize Paris's aims and ambitions over the coming years and decades. The special session will therefore provide a forum for the African region to agree on its key messages and strategies for negotiations at the Conference of the Parties.

It will be recalled that AMCEN at its 14th session held in 2012 adopted a decision to establish an African Environment Partnership Platform spearheaded by the NEPAD Agency. The Platform was officially launched during the 22nd Conference of the Parties to the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC COP22) in Marrakech, Morocco in 2016. Subsequently, the steering committee of the partnership platform agreed to hold the first meeting of the platform in 2018. The focus for this first meeting of the platform will be to review environmental management in Africa under the theme “50 years of Environmental Governance and Sustainability in Africa”. It is expected that the platform meeting will conclude with a communique, whose content will form part of the final outcomes of the special session. An awards ceremony is planned for the evening of 19 September 2018 to recognize countries, institutions and individuals who have played key roles and contributed significantly towards the management of Africa's environmental assets.

The Ministers and experts will adopt a declaration, a set of decisions and key messages reflecting the discussions under the various issues on the agenda.

Associated meetings

The following associated meetings will be held:

- (a) 15 – 16 September: Pre-AMCEN major groups and stakeholders' forum (civil society) meeting

Side events

Several side events will be held during the special session. Details of these events will be published as soon as they become available.

UNON COMPLEX

About the UNON Gigiri Complex

The Gigiri complex accommodates approximately 3,500 staff members inclusive of the service coordinators. However, during major conferences, the population at the Gigiri complex can exceed 5,000 people.

The 140-acre UN Gigiri complex is a peaceful place, adjacent to the famous Karura Forest. The UN Gigiri Complex has a variety of unique natural habitats and thematic artefacts to see on an organized tour. It also boasts of an ecologically balanced environment, with a set of constructed wetlands with reed-beds and artificial water features, to support its primary wastewater treatment. A designated biodiversity arboretum with an assemblage of indigenous tree species is situated on the southern end of the Complex with interpreted nature trails.

While at the UN Complex in Gigiri, please refrain from feeding the Sykes' monkeys. They are wild animals and should not be fed with any left over foods meant for human consumption. This is bad for their digestive systems and their teeth, apart from getting them acquire food snatching habits and conflicts with humans.

A physical tour of the UNON complex may be arranged through the UNON Visitors Centre: <http://visitors.unon.org/>. You may also wish to take a virtual tour at: http://visitors.unon.org/sites/default/files/untours/index.html#/scene_01_karibu. More information can be found at: <http://visitors.unon.org>.

Access to the complex

Access to the UN Gigiri Complex is via the UN Avenue. The main pedestrian access is through the Pavilion, north of the main vehicle access gates opposite the United States Embassy. Vehicles can drop off their passengers at a drive-in space in front of the gate.

All participants need to be registered prior to the meeting to be allowed access. Registered participants will be screened and are advised not to bring weapons, ammunition, flammable items or sharp objects. Participants accessing the UNON complex will be requested to present a valid Government issued photo ID or passport. Participants will thereafter be issued with a conference badge and are advised to wear the badge always during their visit.

The main vehicle access gate is located opposite the US Embassy. Only vehicles with an official UN decal or UN Environment Assembly Decal (which shall be provided to VIPS only) will be allowed into the complex and are subject to screening. These vehicle decals will be issued by the Secretariat during registration.

Pre - registration to the AMCEN special session

A registration page has been designed to accommodate your registration request at <https://www.unenvironment.org/regions/africa/african-ministerial-conference-environment> to the AMCEN special session as well as its associated events

Once pre-registered online and written confirmation to the Secretariat, delegates will be able to finalize their registration on-site and collect their badges at the UNID Office located at the Pavilion on days designated prior to the session and the session itself.

Paper smart - AMCEN is the main regional environmental decision making body in Africa and will therefore lead by example in all its activities/interventions, by reducing its carbon footprint. Participants and delegates are encouraged to bring laptops or iPads, as most documents will be made available online at: <https://www.unenvironment.org/regions/africa/african-ministerial-conference-environment> and <http://www.nepad.org/aepp>. Limited on-demand hard copy of official documents will be made available only upon request in meeting rooms.

Free of plastic cups - To combat pollution, the UNON compound now uses glass water bottles instead of plastic containers. All participants are encouraged to bring their own reusable bottles, as water dispensers will be available at the event, situated in suitable and accessible locations. These steps will reduce the special session's pollution footprint by minimizing waste and its dangerous impacts on the environment and human health.

Other Information

Vehicles and fire - arms

Vehicles with pre-existing UNON Decals will be allowed access. Vehicles ferrying Ministers/Head of delegation will be issued with specific Decal for access. For vehicles which will need to enter the complex please email Inspector Andrew Bakhoya <andrew.bakhoya@unon.org> or <bakhoya@un.org> or Ms. Janet Okal <janet.okal@unon.org> or <okal@un.org> 48 hours in advance with the following information:
